"The Impact of IMPACT": Our 2022 in review

2022 has been a year of dramatic growth, thanks to your support! Among our successes:

+ We have reached nearly 16 million young children and families!

+ Over 15,500 people have visited our IMPACT Measures Tool® website

+ We've connected with 1,250 practitioners at our outreach events

+ We now have over 250 measures on the IMPACT Tool including Head Start and home visiting

+ We've gained insights from living experts about cultural relevance and equity in assessment

+ We received funding from the US Department of Health & Human Services to help establish the Early Childhood Evidence to Impact National Center

See our "Impact of IMPACT: Our 2022 in Review" for more information on our accomplishments this year. Thank you for your continued support. We look forward to continuing to help young children and families thrive in 2023 and beyond!

From our team to you: Thank you!

We want to say a heartfelt thanks for the critically important work you do with young children and families. We also greatly appreciate your support of the IMPACT Measures Tool®, which has helped us reach more young children than ever this year. We are grateful for you, and we wish you a peaceful holiday season and a happy new year.

Learn more about IMPACT

IMPACT is a suite of tools and resources to help support the measurement needs of the early childhood field, including the IMPACT Measures Tool®, a repository of early childhood and parenting measures. In addition to our Measures Tool, our IMPACT offerings also include educational content such as videos, articles, and practical tools, which you can explore on our Learn page.

For more information on using the IMPACT Measures Tool®,watch our tutorial video.
